Discussion Handout For Long Distance Learning

Week/Session 2 – How Does Your Garden Grow?

Before the Training: Read the first section of the article, Correcting Ministry Performance, The Fundamentals of Correcting and the second section, Correcting Ministry Performance, Scriptural Principles in Correcting Ministry Performance. For the next session complete or re-read the entire article.

Discussion Exercise: Growing Good Fruit—Correcting as Biblical Process

Coaching

Coaching is a form of intentional training. We assume the person we are responsible for has the emotional and skill maturity to self-correct. We pour our time, insight, experience and direction into the team member and they appropriately respond. The tools we use are encouragement, exhortation/spur and correction.

If the process of correcting ministry performance were likened to gardening they are some steps necessary for a good gardener and a good leader to keep the environment healthy and productive.

Encouragement

Fertilizer – Encouragement is a lot like fertilizer. Plants don't grow healthy without it and neither do people.

What does the “fertilizer” of encouragement look and sound like?

Who, in your life, has been an encourager? What did you do because of it?

Look at Titus 1:9. When Paul taught Titus, he told him he must “hold firmly to the trustworthy message as it has been taught, so that he encourage others by sound doctrine and refute those who oppose it.” How do you encourage others by sound doctrine?

Describe a time in your life when you didn’t get encouragement? What did you do, or not do, because of it?

How do you think you are doing in the area of encouraging feedback to your team(s)? Do you need to ask them?

Exhortation/Spur

Weed/Tend – To keep the plant in a healthy state. In gardening we weed to get rid of competing sources that don’t contribute to healthy growth and we need to use insecticides/fungicides or insect repellants as appropriate – so it can be as healthy as it can be. No unnecessary competition and no potentially deadly infestations. And we need to nip unproductive growth in the bud.

What does exhortation/spur look and sound like? Give an example.

But, if I spend all my time just weeding, what do I have? No weeds, but maybe no fruit either because no attention was given to growing fruit, just weeding.

Are you comfortable giving an exhortation/spur? Why might that be?

The writer of Hebrews (10:24) says we are to “consider how we may spur one another on toward love and good deeds.” How often do you see spurring as a part of discipleship? Why do you that this is?

Correction

Prune – Plants won’t grow in the right direction unless there is pruning. If you don’t prune there is small fruit or flowers and becomes a weak, spindly bush. Regular pruning is necessary and is for a season.

What are some of the reasons why we don’t/won’t correct team members?

The Greek word for correcting is epanorthosis (setting upright). Can you relate a story of when a correction turned out well? Paul tells Timothy that Scripture is useful for correcting and training in righteousness. Describe an occasion when you used Biblical correction. How did the person receive it?

What would a correction sound like in your own words?

What, do you think, are essential elements for a correction to be positively received?

Disciplining

Conviction/Reproof/Refute

Severe Prune – The point in gardening of a severe prune is to remove diseased portions so the diseased portions don't destroy the plant. It's not to punish the plant for failing to produce. Pruning may distort the appearance of the plant for a while, may slow down growth or the fruiting process but is necessary for the plant to survive and thrive.

What actions or behaviors of a ministry team member would constitute grounds for a severe prune?

Paul refuted Peter, his spiritual elder, to his face when Peter came to Antioch to discuss the issue of circumcision. Have you ever had to refute another believer privately or in public? How did it turn out? Would you do it again?

What are some examples of what a conviction/reproof/refute action would look like? What would be the conditions warranting a conviction/reproof/refute with a ministry team member?"

Rebuke

Removal of the plant – There comes a time, unfortunately when a plant simply has to be dug up and removed. As a gardener we do it so it won't infect other plants. Or, if the roots aren't diseased, you cut it back just above the graft and give it a season to restore. If it does, many times the plant is even more robust and healthy than when you planted it.

Why, do you think, many ministries are unable or unwilling to raise themselves up to issue a necessary rebuke to a team member or ministry member?

Isn't removal awfully severe?

What's the consequence of not removing a member deserving rebuke?

What about the person being rebuked? Aren't you going to feel that you failed them?

Is it possible that many issues reaching the level of a required rebuke got there because of a failure to follow through on the previous steps?

There is a two-fold purpose in a rebuke. What are they?

Additional Thoughts:

		Correcting Roles
Coaching Tools	Process	Encourager	Mentor	Coach	Supervisor	Pastor
	Encouragement	X	X	X	X (Appraisal/ Commendation)	X (Intentional)
	Exhortation/Spur	X	X	X	X (Appraisal)	X (Counseling)

Disciplining Tools	Conviction/ Reproof/ Refute			X	X (Suspension/ demotion, possible dismissal from ministry)	X (Strong warning/ removal from ministry with elders and deacons)
	Rebuke				X (Definite dismissal)	X (Strongest reprimand, potential disfellowship)

Correcting Roles

- Encourager – In the ministry, who are the encouragers?
- Mentor – Name several mentors you know and explain how the correcting responsibilities are evidenced. Does a mentor have a role in correcting? Where?
- Coach – Identify the coaches in the ministry. Why are they qualified to be a coach? How does the ministry encourage, enhance and build coaches? What does a coach do when correcting?
- Supervisor – What is the difference between a coach a supervisor? How far do their correcting responsibilities extend?
- Pastor – What is the role of correcting reserved for pastor? Is a pastor an encourager? A mentor? A coach? A supervisor?

Reflection:

- Encouragement Read Acts 15:1-35. What happened in vs. 1-29 that prepared the way for such a positive response in Antioch?
- Exhortation/Spur Read 1 Thessalonians 2. How does Paul's tone differ from the message delivered in Acts 15? Note in 1 Thess. 17-20 Paul's passion. How would you describe it?
- Correction Read 1 Corin. 3 and 4 from the view of an elder in the church of Corinth reading Paul's letter for the first time. How would you feel? How well has Paul made his point? Since he could not be there and bawling them out was only half the remedy, what else did Paul do?
- Conviction/Reproof/Refute Read Acts 18:18-27. If you were Apollos and went to Achaia how would you personally have "refuted the Jews in public debate?"
- Rebuke Read 1 Corin. 5. The elders of Corinth have been properly and appropriately corrected. Now Paul talks about rebuking a member. If chapters 3 and 4 had not preceded 5 what would have been the likely action of the elders? Would it have been possible without chapters 3 and 4 for the elders to have quickly assumed the self-righteous attitudes of the Sadducees and the Pharisees?
